

House Resolution 1890

By: Representatives Manning of the 32nd, Smith of the 70th, Williams of the 165th, McCall of the 30th, and Hanner of the 148th

A RESOLUTION

- 1 Creating the House Septage Disposal Study Committee; and for other purposes.
- 2 WHEREAS, there are approximately 2 million active individual on-site waste-water 3 treatment systems or septic tanks located in the State of Georgia; and
- 4 WHEREAS, to maintain the environmental integrity of those systems, they should be 5 pumped out on a regular basis; and
- 6 WHEREAS, the United States Environmental Protection Agency has recognized that these 7 systems are a viable cost effective and long-term option for meeting public health and water 8 quality goals, particularly in less densely populated areas as in a great part of Georgia when 9 they are adequately managed; and
- 10 WHEREAS, there are some municipalities and counties in Georgia that do not provide a 11 facility for the disposal of septage within their jurisdiction; and
- 12 WHEREAS, the individuals and companies engaged in the business of pumping out these 13 systems do not have reasonable options for the disposal of this septage; and
- 14 WHEREAS, in many instances, there are problems of disposing of septage in creeks, 15 streams, rivers, and on unimproved land since facilities are not made available; and
- 16 WHEREAS, this is a significant problem that has the potential to be a major health and 17 environmental hazard if it is not addressed in the very near future; and
- 18 WHEREAS, it is improper to require a municipality or county to accept waste without being 19 allowed to charge an appropriate fee.
